

Neopost PrintMachine

Training

Scripting with PrintMachine

Course ID	PM-BA-35
Course Type	Class with max. 8 Participants
Duration	2 Days
Objectives	After the course, the participants will be capable to solve complex print and output management issues and challenges with the help of PrintMachine. Particularly, the potential of PrintMachine Basic / PrintMachine Report Basic programmes for solutions to very special and individual output requirements will be known.
Participants	People who want to get an insight into programming by PrintMachine Basic.
Qualifications	Beyond good practical applications knowledge of PrintMachine and its Configuration Tool, the participant must have good knowledge of a programming language (preferably Visual Basic or VBA).
Topics	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Introduction to PrintMachine Basic (PrintMachine-specific events and methods)• Introduction to PrintMachine Object Model (events and methods)• Application of the PrintMachine Basic Programming Environment (Debugging)• Practical application of typical PrintMachine Basic Scripts• Connection to an external database by use of ADO• Overview of and consultation with PrintMachine Basic Reference Manual

Please register soon – the number of participants per course is limited. We recommend registering online at <http://solutions.neopost.com/outputmanagement>. Registrations are considered in order of Arrival.